Lincoln Highway Asso. Member.
Hon. C. Wm. Beales reported to the Lincoln Highway Association that he had secured several more than the allotted forty sustaining members of the Association in Gettysburg at $5 a head in several hours time and has received the following letter from the secretary of the association, showing that this town responded quicker than any other community with its quota of sustaining members:

Dear Mr. Beales:—We are certainly gratified with the instantaneous response of your fellow citizens in Gettysburg to the Association's appeal for Sustaining Memberships. About a dozen of the cities on the routes have so far completed their quota but in no case have we been advised that it was accomplished in such short order as you mention.

We are sending a letter to each of the individuals whose names you sent us, together with a membership card and as fast as these memberships come in they will be credited to the quota of Gettysburg. With the greatest appreciation for your active personal efforts in behalf of the Association and your continued interest and support of the work, we are Very truly yours,

LINCOLN HIGHWAY ASSO.

Fire Alarm.

A fire alarm on Tuesday morning brought out the Boyd engine and apparatus promptly. The cause of the alarm was a fire in cellar of the house on York street owned by Mrs. Harry Aughinbaugh and tenanted by Guy Tipton. Repairs were being made to a gas service pipe and a lighted candle ignited the gas and started a blaze and smoke. The gas was turned off and fire put out with the chemicals. Much of the furniture on first floor of house was removed. The damage done was very small.

Again Arrested.

Oliver Miller is in jail again in default of $2000 bail to answer the charge of assault and battery with intent to kill. The charge grows out of an attack made upon Samuel Hartzell last Saturday. Miller has been living on the Hartzell property on Chambersburg pike near town and was warned to leave April 1st. Mr. Hartzell went to his place to make some repairs caused by recent wind storm. Miller was away but returned before Hartzell had finished and immediately attacked him in a rage, striking Hartzell with a stone in his hand and knocking him down. It was feared at first that Mr. Hartzell was seriously hurt.

Forward One Hour March 31.

President Wilson signed the daylight-saving bill on Tuesday providing that at 2 o'clock on the morning of March 31, Easter, the clocks in all the four time belts of the United States shall be turned forward one hour. After Mr. Wilson received the bill he lost no time in affixing his signature to it when it was brought to his attention. The President is heartily in favor of the act and believes with all who have studied the subject that the summertime law will prove one of the most popular measures ever passed by Congress.

The idea that the new time plan will be confusing is all wrong. The arrangement is just as simple as turning back one's watch an hour on a trip from Philadelphia to Chicago. There will be no derangement of business schedules and no arguing as to whether it is 11 o'clock or 12 o'clock. Once all the clocks in the country move forward the whole scheme of life will go on as usual.

The change to faster time scarcely will be noticed. Some may lose an hour's sleep, but that is all. The railroads will have a little difficulty the night the change is made, but the switch from wintertime to summertime will only affect running trains which left their starting places at the old time and reach their destinations under the new. All such trains will arrive ostensibly one hour late. Schedules for the next day will not be changed in any way. The whole structure of American life simply goes forward one hour until next October.

The long daylight hours of the summertime afternoons have been greatly enjoyed abroad and will be enjoyed by the sport-loving American people. There will be one hour less of the annoying sun shining hotly in the windows in the early summer mornings when one is trying to sleep, despite the brilliant intrusion of the solar rays. This unhappy hour will be changed for a delightful hour of late afternoon, when the day's work is over.

County Spelling Bee.

The fifth annual spelling contest will be held at the High School in Gettysburg, to-day, Saturday, March 23, at 10 A. M. and 1 P. M., under direction of County Superintendent H. M. Roth. The rules follow the lines of previous contests. Prof. Roth will be the pronouncer, and judges are Asst. Co. Supt. W. Raymond Shank, Prof. Chas. A. Landis, of Fairfield; Miss M. Ioma Yake, of Conewago; Miss Ruth I. Linn, of Liberty, and Miss Bess K. Raffensperger, of Butler. One hundred and fifty children of the public schools of the county have made the required averages in spelling to entitle them to take part in the contest, and with the prospects of good weather and roads, a big turnout of the eligibles can be expected.

Dust Problem.

The dust nuisance and problem was the special consideration of the Town Fathers at their session Monday night. It was decided to fill low places of streets with stone and binder and then oil the streets with a combination of two-thirds tarvia and one-third oil. It is expected that M. & T. E. Farrel will have their stone quarry in operation within a few weeks and be able to supply the stone needed and the Highway Committee will make the purchases of oil and tarvia and the same will likely be put on the streets by the company furnishing the tarvia as was done last year.

Election of County Superintendent.

Co. Supt. of Public Schools.

Elmer Myers, of York Springs, and of Connie Mack's string of pitchers, and Mrs. Gladys B. Bailey were married on Monday and started for Jacksonville on Tuesday. Myers did not leave with the players on last Saturday and the questions asked did not get answered until Monday, when Mrs. Bailey was given a decree of divorce from John C. Bailey on ground of cruel treatment and later the same day married Pitcher Myers. She was a Miss Searl, of Philadelphia, and married Bailey in 1910, and after living together less than a year came the application for divorce and Mrs. Bailey and Myers having met in the meantime awaited the result of the divorce proceedings.

Hewitt—Biddle.—Miss Stella Biddle, of Gettysburg, and Sergeant Major John W. Hewitt, of Camp Meade, were married on Wednesday afternoon at the parsonage of the Lutheran Memorial Church, in Washington, D. C., by the pastor, Rev. Henry Anstadt. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Emma Biddle, of Water street, and has been employed at the Gettysburg Department Store. Mr. Hewitt is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Hewitt, of Aspers, and has made his home in Gettysburg for a number of years. He went to Camp Meade with the first quota from Adams county and is now a Sergeant Major attached to General Headquarters. Mr. Hewitt has recently returned from France where he accompanied Gen. Kuhn on his trip to the front.

Gettysburgians Move to East Berlin.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Spangler and Miss Annie Wolf, who have made their home in Gettysburg for a number of years, moved on Wednesday of this week to East Berlin where they will occupy their residence on the Centre Square in that place. Mr. and Mrs. Spangler have been residents of Gettysburg for forty-seven years, and during that time have been actively connected with St. James' Lutheran Church and Sunday School, each having taught a class in the Sunday School from the time they came here until just recently, and Miss Wolf was superintendent of the Primary Department for many years. Mr. Spangler was also superintendent of the Sunday School for a period of thirty-one years.

On last Thursday evening the members of both Sunday School classes entertained Mr. and Mrs. Spangler at a surprise party at the home of Sheriff and Mrs. Hartman, East High street. The affair was much enjoyed by all and old fashioned games were played and old fashioned songs sung for old-time sake. On Sunday evening at the regular church service the Sunday School presented Mr. and Mrs. Spangler and Miss Wolf with a huge bouquet of carnations in appreciation of their faithful services. It happened that Sunday was also the occasion of Mrs. Spangler's 82nd birthday anniversary.

Ex-President Taft.

Commencement at Gettysburg College will be made notable by the presence of ex-President William H. Taft, who will be the Commencement Day orator on Friday, May 17. He will be asked to review the Gettysburg College Battalion, of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps. It is the first time any Lutheran institution has been honored by having a Commencement orator a president or an ex-president and the fact that Dr. Granville and ex-President Taft are both of Yale University and personal acquaintances has brought the honor to Gettysburg College.

Five Billion Third Liberty Loan.

According to Claude Kitchen, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the House, a bill will be introduced in Congress this week or next for the Third Liberty Loan of five billion, bearing a 4 1/2 per cent. interest. The size of the loan is much less than has been expected, due to the large estimated receipts from income and excess profits taxes and other sources.

Resolutions.

On the death of Bro. Wm. J. Stausbury, adopted by Battlefield Council O. I. A., Monday evening March 11, 1918.

Whereas: It again becomes the duty of Battlefield Council O. I. A., to record on its obituary page, the death of one of our faithful members, and

Whereas: The Council wishes to express the esteem in which our brother was held as a member, and the loss we realize, do adopt these resolutions:

First: No words can fully convey the respect in which our entire membership held our departed brother. We know the inevitable call must come to every human being regardless of the useful part that life has exerted.

Second: It is hard to say "Farewell my brother," as the body is lowered in the grave, but doubly sad to those who remain when a useful life has passed into the great unbounded beyond.

Third: Let us emulate his beautiful life in all our actions, so that our loss, finally like his, may be heaven gained.

Fourth: We commend God's sustaining grace and care for the bereaved widow and family, in this most sad of all losses, and we direct that these resolutions, under seal of Council, be sent to the family, recorded in the Council minutes, and a copy be published.

GOVERNMENT DEMANDS FLOUR SUPPLY REPORTS

All Household Must Report Flour Supply at Once—Card Printed in Newspapers Must be Used.

All householders in Pennsylvania have been ordered by the United States Food Administration to report the quantity of flour in their possession on a flour supply card issued by the Federal Food Administrator for this County and printed below in this paper. The card will not be issued in other form than that found printed in the newspapers so that if you are affected by the order you must cut out the clipping and mail it to the Federal Food Administrator for your County.

The following statement was issued by Mr. Heinz, Federal Food Administrator for Pennsylvania, in commenting on the above rule:

"The flour supply card issued by the Food Administration is the first step in a campaign to learn how much wheat flour is stored away in the homes. Household are given the opportunity to report on the flour supply card the number in their households, the amount of wheat flour on hand (including whole wheat and graham flour) and the amount they consider their thirty days' requirement. Those who fail to report will run the risk of prosecution and the penalty for hoarding—$5000 fine and two years' imprisonment or both. If any persons fail to report, the Food Administration can promise them no leniency, if found guilty of hoarding."

"By directing the public to state their flour holdings on the flour supply card the Food Administration is taking the step necessary to prevent a possible flour famine. Hoarding hastens famine. If next May, June or July we find ourselves without wheat flour, it will be because thousands of tons are stored away in cellars by unpatriotic householders who banish any consideration of the soldiers in their greed to have their own desire satisfied. The flour supply card is a government action which will meet with the approval of all those who have taken the time to study food conditions 'broad and who know therefore that food is probably the foremost factor in winning the war.'"

OFFICIAL HOUSEHOLDER'S FLOUR REPORT

WRITE CAREFULLY.

No householder is permitted to purchase over 49 pounds of wheat flour nor to have more than 30 days' supply. Every householder must report immediately (on this form) to their County Food Administrator. Make report of all wheat flour on hand whether it is excess or not and urge on your neighbors the importance and necessity of making this report promptly.

Number in household.....adults.....children under 12.

Wheat flour on hand (all flour containing any wheat).....lbs.

Thirty days' requirements (when used with substitutes according to 50-50 regulation).....lbs.

I agree to hold my excess subject to the order of the United States Food Administration.

Name.....

Postoffice.....

Street and No. or R. F. D.....

Maximum penalty for hoarding is $5,000.00 fine and two years' imprisonment. These blanks will not be distributed. You must fill in your own blank and mail or deliver it to your County Food Administrator. An immediate report will avoid possibility of search and prosecution.

HOWARD HEINZ,
Federal Food Administrator for Pennsylvania.

AMUSING PIECE OF "NERVE"

How Cool Impudence of Young British Naval Officers Relieved Tension of Situation.

In "Facing the Hindenburg Line," by Burris A. Jenkins, may be found a number of incidents in which naval men prove their coolness and heroism. Nobody knows all the stories of coolness and heroism among the naval men, says the author. We shall not learn them till the war is over, but here is one that perhaps the censors will allow to go by. It was told by a medical officer who was aboard the Franconia when she was sunk acting as a transport.

"We had five or six naval officers aboard. They were sitting in the smoking room—remember the smoking lounge in the old Franconia? It was very long, as long as this dining room and twice as broad. They had just ordered whisky sodas. Suddenly there was an explosion and the steel floor of the smoking room just buckled up and burst apart in the middle of the ship. One of those officers called the steward and said:

"I ask you to witness, steward, that we have paid for these whisky sodas and have not had time to drink them."

"Then the rascals went below, got on their lifebelts, came back again, asked the steward for a big sheet of foolscap, wrote out a long 'we, the undersigned,' setting forth that they had ordered six whisky sodas, for which they had paid nine shillings, with a sixpence tip, and had not been allowed to drink them. Thereupon they entered a claim against the British government for the nine shillings and sixpence, with accrued interest from date. Then they walked in a body up to the bridge and handed it to the skipper. The old man told me afterward he never was so grateful to anybody as to these cool young devils for the steady and bucking up influence of their impudence."

The Ex-Czarina.

I rub my eyes when I read that the czarina is a deeply scheming, intriguing woman who had ambiguous relations with Rasputin and aimed at the success of Germany over the country she had adopted by marriage as her own. It is only necessary to cast my memory back to the time when I was just entering womanhood and Princess Alexandra Alix was a girl some ten years my junior. Certainly I knew the shy, reserved simple child well enough to realize that she had not the mental development for any form of intrigue. Residence at Buckingham palace under the keen critical eye of an august grandmother, an eye that nothing could possibly escape, did not make for striking individuality, nor did the quiet simplicity of the German home, and the princess grew up beneath the double burden of surveillance and etiquette sharing the quiet intellectual life of an adored mother. Yet she had a certain measure of high spirits, loved tennis and dancing, and having tuned her life to play its small part in the great household orchestra, seemed happy enough.—The Bookman.

Tommies Surprise Italy.

Whole battalions of Thomas Atsines, now that the long-expected snowfall has buried the Austro-Germans in deep Alpine drifts, have been paying visits to the Milan opera house and receiving immense ovations. By way of acknowledgment Tommy gave the laurel-crowned "Tipperary," and treated a sensation, as well he might, in that sacred mecca of Italian opera. Flowers were showered upon him in most embarrassing fashion. The reason of this delicate attention may be the kilts, at which the people gaze in undisguised amazement. One veteran peasant exclaimed: "Fancy, women as well as men go to war in that country, and yet they look as though they would make mincemeat of the Germans." Little wonder that some of these kilted "ladies" received not only flowers, but equally embarrassing kisses.—Christian Science Monitor.

A THOROUGH TEST.

One to Convince the Most Skeptical Gettysburg Reader.

The test of time is the test that counts. Doan's Kidney Pills have made their reputation by effective action. The following case is typical. Gettysburg residents should be convinced.

The testimony is confirmed—the proof complete.

Testimony like this cannot be ignored.

John J. Tawney, 224 Baltimore St., Gettysburg says: "I suffered off and on with rheumatic pains and kidney ailments. My back ached constantly, and often in the morning I was so lame and stiff I could hardly get out of bed. My kidneys acted irregularly too. Someone advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I got some at the People's Drug Store. I was surprised at the quick relief I received. I am not bothered by rheumatic pains now and I am in much better health all around."

OVER TWO YEARS LATER Mr. Tawney said: "I still use Doan's Kidney Pills, in fact, I always keep them in the house. I know if I take a few as soon as I have any symptoms of kidney trouble, I will be saved a great deal of suffering."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Tawney had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Barn Wind Storm Loss
This barn, a new one, was one of the largest, the best built, the most up-to-date barn in Southern Pennsylvania, yet it did not withstand the wind storm, and the loss is thousands of dollars.
The loss is partly covered by cyclone insurance issued at Martin Winter's office.
The cost of this kind of insurance on a farm barn is $3.75 per $1000 insurance for three years (the rate on houses being lower).
The question therefore for every property owner is:
Does it pay to rise the loss of $1000 for three long years to save $3.75.
It requires less than five minutes to destroy a barn, and there are a good many five minute periods in three years.

MR. SIMPKINS PAYS HIS INCOME TAX

By ROBERT McBLAIR.

Mr. Simpkins gazed at the portrait on the wall till his eyes filled with tears. It was a portrait of his father, Colonel Simpkins, who had four times been promoted for valor during the Civil War and had died bravely on the field of action. Mr. Simpkins' throat ached now for two reasons: First, he revered and adored the memory of his father; secondly, his age and his eyes and his lame leg wouldn't let him go to war himself. And as he observed the martial bearing and uncompromising gaze of Colonel Simpkins he saw, in imagination, the khaki-clad lads of the new generation marching forth and crossing three thousand miles of sea to fight, maybe die, for liberty.

Mr. Simpkins peered around to make sure that neither Bess nor John (who were at the teasing ages of sixteen and seventeen) were where they could see him, then he straightened and threw his right arm up for a salute. But his weary shoulder twinged, and he groaned. He couldn't even salute.

"Damn!" said Mr. Simpkins, and with his other hand he fiercely twisted his white mustaches.

He turned and limped into the library and sat down creakily before the mahogany desk on which were lying the blanks for his income tax statement, blanks which he had rather grumpily got from the Internal Revenue officer only that day after luncheon on his way home from the club.

Mr. Simpkins' income for 1917 had amounted to just about $15,000 and he had been rather snappy on the subject of taxes ever since he had discovered that the more income a man has the greater the percentage of it he pays in taxes. He could think of several men who, like himself, were married and had two children, and yet, although their incomes were nearly half of his, they would pay only a small fraction of the amount he paid. He gloomily drew the blank nearer and began filling in the information that it asked for.

As Mr. Simpkins' income was $15,000 he had to figure out the amounts payable on each of the successive smaller classes of incomes in order to arrive at the total due from himself. He passed over the first class who must pay taxes, that is, single men making over 1,000. His calculation for married men then showed up as follows:

First, they pay 2 per cent. (under the 1916 law) on all income over $4,000, deducting $200 for each of their children under eighteen years. In Mr. Simpkins' case this was $212, which he put down in the "payable" column.

He saw next that, under the 1917 law, married men pay an additional 2 per cent. on all over $2,000—with the same allowance for children. This added $252 to his "payable" column.

He then observed that for every $2,500 jump in his income over $5,000 he had to pay a Surtax, the percentage growing larger with each jump. This was $250 more added to his burden. And on top of all this came an "Excess Profits" tax of 8 per cent. on all "occupation" income over $6,000, making $720 more.

The total, then, he must pay was fourteen hundred and thirty-four dollars.

"Whew!" exclaimed Mr. Simpkins angrily. "There's young Henry Wilkins, who married Jake Johnson's girl, he makes $2,000 and he doesn't pay a cent of taxes. I guess this is his war as well as mine!"

Thinking of young Henry Wilkins, he remembered that Mrs. Wilkins went every afternoon to make bandages for the Red Cross and that Henry, who was a lawyer, was aiding the Local Draft Board with its questionnaires. "Well," he admitted to himself, "that makes a difference."

He thought next of Judge Willoughby, whose income was about $3,000.

"He only pays $20," commented Mr. Simpkins, not quite so angrily this time; and then a thought struck him and he sat up rigidly in his chair.

Judge Willoughby's son had been drowned on the Tuscania when it was submarine with the loss of two hundred soldiers.

"Judge Willoughby gave his son to America," muttered Mr. Simpkins.

He leaned forward suddenly and put his face in his hands.

"For a long time Mr. Simpkins sat very still in that position. There was no sound in the library except the ticking of the tall clock and an occasional rattle of laughter from the children skylarking upstairs. The square of light on the carpet gradually withdrew itself through the window, and first twilight and then darkness settled in about the quiet, white haired, sometimes irascible old man.

Mr. Simpkins was thinking things which he would never afterward speak of, he was thinking things that were too sacred ever to be put into words. But some inkling of his thoughts may be found in his rejoinder to Mrs. Simpkins when that placid lady came in and turned on the lights, and asked him whether he was ready for dinner.

"Judge Willoughby's only son was worth as much as fourteen hundred and thirty-four dollars, wasn't he?" Mr. Simpkins demanded of her.

As his wife, who was not unused to his superficial irritations, watched him in mild astonishment, Mr. Simpkins limped out to the hall and took his old felt hat and silver-headed cane from the hat rack. Letting himself out into the foggy evening, he tapped his way down to the corner, and mailed his income tax statement and check with his own hands.

Japanese Tiger Hunters.

Tadasaburo Yamamoto, one of Japan's most wealthy men, who has immense shipping interests, returned recently from a tiger hunt in the Korean mountains. Mr. Yamamoto had with him 200 friends and professional sportsmen who are experts with the rifle. They left Tokyo on November 15 and established headquarters at Gensang, a small port on the northern coast of the Sea of Japan. The experienced sportsmen were distributed among the amateurs in the party, so that everybody was given an opportunity to bag what game was encountered.

Mr. Yamamoto and his party returned recently from the hunt after several successful weeks in the Korean mountains and has been feasting his friends on tiger steaks and other dishes from the game brought home.—New York Herald.

Easy Solution of Difficulty.

A pompous old gentleman upon reaching his home one evening found the street blocked and a heap of earth piled against his doorstep. Observing a workman working his shovel in a nearby ditch, he accosted a passing policeman and complained that the laborer was trespassing upon private property.

"What do you mean by throwing dirt on the gentleman's steps?" demanded the officer.

"There's no other place to throw it!" replied the workman indifferently.

"Well, then, in that case, you had better dig another hole and throw it in there!"
